

November 2019

Dear Parents, Colleagues and Friends of Broadlands,

November has been a busy month at Broadlands Hall with many events taking place to compliment the curriculum. The students have also been busy planning our Christmas performance of which you can find details of below. We hope to see as many of you there as possible to join us in celebrating the students' achievements and to see their performances.

Wednesday 18th December 2019, 1:45pm

Christmas Celebration

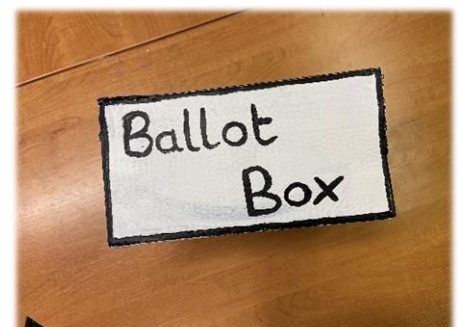

Join us for a jolly, informal concert featuring Christmas of past, present and future with mince-pies and tea.

Including a special guest appearance from Hundon Harmony.

01440 702559
V.meadows@broadlandshall.co.uk

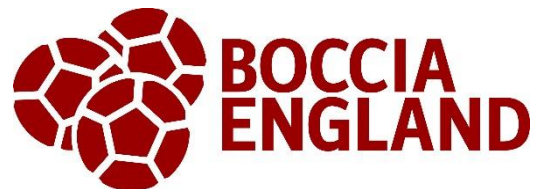

November saw the ballot take place following campaigning by our students for a place on the Student Council. We are really pleased to have allocated the roles available to students and have had the council meet for the first time this year. The student responsible for our charity work got straight to work ensuring there was a successful cake sale in place to raise money for children in need.

Our support for the Children in Need campaign started with a morning workout led by Joe Wicks. This morning move was live streamed to schools across the country and we of course had to take part at Broadlands Hall! The students all had an input into our cake sale to support children in need which raised over £80.

After a few practise sessions our school team went along to the Boccia England Schools Area Pan Division Final held at Inspire Suffolk, Ipswich. They all had a great time and enjoyed taking part in the tournament. Unfortunately our team were eliminated in the Quarter finals this year but with a newly formed team the students should be extremely proud of their achievement as we are of them.

This month has also included the whole school taking part in a remembrance silence with an assembly focused on Remembrance Day and what poppies represent. Odd socks day where the students and staff wore odd socks to school on purpose! This was to demonstrate our commitment to Anti-bullying during the national anti-bullying week and trips to the cinema for all of our students as part of the 'Into film' festival which aims to help educators bring learning to life for 5-19 year olds across the UK by inspiring young people to watch, understand and make film in new and creative ways.

Shane Rowe
Head Teacher